

At 4:31 A.M., on January 17, 1994, an earthquake measuring 6.6 hit southern California. The quake caused nearly $20 billion in damage. Do you think earthquakes are scary or fascinating? Why do you feel that way? What are some things people can do to stay safe during an earthquake?